Cinematic Chatter

By Malcolm Miller

We all remember the memorable performance of Michael O'Shea in "Lady of Burlesque".

It should therefore be interesting to all of those who enjoyed this new comer's work to know that he will be seen again at the Prince Theatre this coming Sunday-Monday in "Man From Frisco", with Anne Shirley as his leading lady this time. Featured with this pair are Victor Jory, Dun Duryea, Ray Walker, Michael Dennis and Tommy Bond.

The picture had a well written story and an excellent cast, and due to the fact that the direction is expert and the picture moves forward continuously with a rapid pace, I am sure everyone who witnesses this one will thoroughly enjoy it.

Opening picture on the double featured show for Tuesday-Wednesday should be a very interesting show. This one is "Crime By Night" which stars Jane Wyman and Jerome Cowan. The featured players are Stuart Crawford, Eleanor Parker, Cy Parker, Charles Wilson and Faye Emerson.

Story is adapted from "Forty Whacks", a crime club book selection by Geoffrey Holmes. "Crime By Night" has a private detective hired by a crippled musician to find the murderer of his father-in-law and butler, who are hacked to death with an axe. The musician is suspected of the double murder, and it involves that a Nazi spy ring is at the bottom of the crimes in an attempt to obtain a secret formula. Sounds okay.

Harold Perry (the man with the most peculiar laugh in custody) and Marion Martin make their bow as stars in the second picture, which happens to be "Gildersleeve's Ghost". Featured with this pair are Margie Stewart, Richard LaGrand, Lillian Randolph, Freddie Mercer, Emory Parnell and Neocedemus.

On the double featured program for Thursday-Friday we find the first one up "Swingtime Johnny" which stars the Andrews Sisters and Harriet Hilliard with Peter Cookson, Tim Ryan, Matt Willis, Bill Phillips and Mitch Ayers and His orchestra featured.

Second picture up is "Unknown Guest" which stars Victor Jory and Pamela Blake. Featured with this pair are Harry Hayden, Emory Parnell, Nora Cecil, Lee White, Paul Fix, Ray Walker, Edwin Mills and Veda Ann Borg. Story is a mystery which winds around a murder that is solved in a clever manner, leaving all interested persons satisfied.

Saturday lists "Blazing Frontier" with Buster Crabbe and Al St. John. Buster used to appear in some mighty actioned serials and Al is an oldtime comic of high class vaudeville. I am sure the picture will please every member of the Six Shooters Gang. See you at the movies—Mal.

I saw three ships a-sailing...

Yes, at least three new ships are added every day to the fleets of our Merchant Marine. In these proud vessels precious equipment is carried to our fighting men the world over.

Our supply lines must not falter. We have the ships, we have the munitions, and we must have the men to man those ships—now! At least three new crews must be ready to go to sea every day in the week. A total of 5,000 new merchant mariners is urgently needed each month.

How about it mister? Want to go to sea? Want good pay while training, opportunity for promotion, steady employment after victory, travel to foreign lands? Want to do a mighty important job in this war?

Then apply at once for training at any office of U. S. Maritime Service, the War Shipping Administration, or the U. S. Employment Service. Any physically qualified man, 17 to 50, may now apply for Maritime Service training if he has not yet been called for Selective Service induction. Discharged war veterans are welcome!

This is your opportunity to do a big and mighty important job for your country... apply now... today!
